Volume 32, No. 3

September 2010

Beverley Wakem

Dear Colleagues,

It is my pleasure to address you as the newly elected President of the I.O.I. I am conscious of the honour of having been selected, the challenge of following the outstanding service which my immediate predecessors Bill Angrick and Mats Melin have given to the organisation and the responsibility of leading the organisation in a changing world where Ombudsmen everywhere face challenges to their jurisdiction.

I think all of us have a common desire to see the I.O.I. as the pre-eminent Ombudsman organisation but we need to recognise that other organisations have sprung up which may offer more immediate professional support and development to our colleagues at a regional and sub regional level. We need to rebuild alliances with these groups and with other international integrity institutions to complement our own renewed efforts to be relevant to our members.

So, as we approach the end of another busy year we can look back with some satisfaction at the progress that has been made to revitalise the I.O.I., strengthen our ties with members and our support of them, and embark on a programme of new services to members.

The General Secretariat, under the able leadership of Peter Kostelka has provided outstanding support to the Board and to members this past year. The new website profiles the I.O.I. and will increasingly act as a forum for exchanges with members on training, professional development and so on. We have a more robust process for assessing membership applications and are developing more professional means of evaluating proposals for I.O.I. support for members' local initiatives.

The Board has resolved to focus first on training opportunities for members. The very successful "Sharpening Your Teeth" programme, conducted by Andre Marin, was offered for the first time specifically to I.O.I. members. This was well received and the feedback affirms its practicality and usefulness to participants. The session was oversubscribed and indicated a thirst for this kind of training. We will do more.

Together with my ExCom and Board colleagues and with the support of the General Secretariat I promise to continue and expand these activities so that we fully support members' aspirations to be the best they can be in performing their exacting roles and to strengthen our capacity to continue to do this.

Beverley Wakem
President of the I.O.I.

Peter Kostelka

Dear Colleagues,

The General Secretariat looks back at a busy but successful autumn that saw several long-term projects being finalised. For example, the new website of the I.O.I. (www.theioi.org) was successfully launched in November 2010. It provides information on ombudsman institutions and their activities and enables I.O.I. members to engage in the exchange of best practice models.

The first virtual library with an ombudsman focus, containing member publications as well as research work in this field, legal foundations and contact details of the member institutions is now available. An interactive calendar helps members to share information on regional, national and international events. A comprehensive I.O.I. directory replaces the outdated paper version.

The new I.O.I. communication platform is operated by the General Secretariat but has a strong regional focus. All members are therefore welcome to contribute actively to the website content and send news items or press releases on their activities to be published on the website.

The General Secretariat is currently preparing the first large-scale comparative research project that will focus on the APOR region. The project draws on the experience of a previous research project on the European region by Prof. Kucsko-Stadlmayer and is planned to be implemented for the APOR region by the Ludwig Boltzmann Institute of Human Rights (<http://bim.lbg.ac.at/en>), an internationally renowned and independent Austrian human rights research institution.

The suggested comparative study on ombudsman institutions should focus on a comparative description of the various ombudsman offices in regard to their legal basis, their integration into the political system and their mandates. Research will also concentrate on an analysis of the various ombudsman offices in terms of their compliance with international and regional human rights standards, to guarantee independence and pluralism and their links to other similar organisations. The project should run from November 2010 to October 2011 with the aim of presenting the preliminary results of the study in the next Board meeting in autumn 2011.

The first I.O.I. training for staff members of ombudsman institutions has taken place from 15 to 17 November 2010 at the I.O.I. General Secretariat in Vienna. The educational program was based on the format "Sharpening Your Teeth" (SYT) that was invented by Ontario Ombudsman André Marin. The three-day training on systemic investigations brought together 38 administrative watchdogs from 18 different countries and four I.O.I. regions who were briefed on principles of excellent investigative work. I am specifically happy that the I.O.I. was able to fund five scholarships for participants from Burkina Faso, Djibouti, The Gambia, Mali and Zambia.

Following this success the Board approved that another worldwide I.O.I. edition of the SYT training should be held in Vienna before summer 2011. Dates will be communicated within the next couple of weeks. SYT 2011 will also offer scholarships for member institutions with limited resources and the course will be open to non I.O.I. members depending upon availability.

In order to maximise transparency within the I.O.I. this newsletter edition includes a summary of all major decisions that were taken by the Board during its Bermuda meeting. Reaching from I.O.I. subsidies for regional projects to preparations for the I.O.I. world conference in 2012 that will be kindly hosted by I.O.I. President Beverley Wakem - the General Secretariat will support the newly elected Executive Committee in implementing projects that constitute a concrete membership benefit.

Therefore I would like to thank in this context all those members who have already paid their annual contribution for the membership year 2010/2011.

Dr. Peter Kostelka
Secretary General of the I.O.I.

NEW EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

The I.O.I. Board held officer elections for the roles of the I.O.I. President, Vice-President and Treasurer during its meeting in Bermuda in October 2010: New Zealand Chief Ombudsman Beverley Wakem was elected President. The Northern Ireland Ombudsman Tom Frawley will serve as Vice-President and Hong Kong Ombudsman Alan Lai was elected I.O.I. Treasurer.

I.O.I. President Beverley Wakem was appointed New Zealand Ombudsman in March 2005 and Chief Ombudsman in April 2008. She has been a member of the I.O.I. Board of Directors since 2008. Ms. Wakem's background is in broadcasting, public relations and consulting, much of the latter to the state sector. Ms Wakem's broadcasting career in news, current affairs and general programming culminated in her appointment as Chief Executive of Radio New Zealand. She was also for five years President of the Asia Pacific Broadcasting Union. In 1997 Ms Wakem was appointed by the Government to the Higher Salaries Commission and was reappointed twice to that body.

I.O.I. Vice-President Tom Frawley was appointed Ombudsman for Northern Ireland in September 2000. He has already served as Vice-President of the I.O.I. in 2006/2007 and has been a member of the I.O.I. Board of Directors since 2004. Following graduation at the Trinity College in Dublin in 1971, Tom Frawley pursued a successful career in the health service in Northern Ireland before his appointment as Ombudsman. In 2003 he was invited by the power sharing government to chair the Panel of Experts that was appointed to support the Review of Public Administration in Northern Ireland. He is now the longest serving Ombudsman since the Office was created in 1969.

I.O.I. Treasurer Alan Lai was appointed as Hong Kong Ombudsman in April 2009 for a period of five years and has been a member of the I.O.I. Board of Directors since June 2009. Mr Lai has over 30 years of experience in public administration. He was heavily involved in international trade negotiation work in the 1980's and 1990's, representing Hong Kong in bilateral trade negotiations and multilateral forums like the World Trade Organization and the Asia-Pacific Economic Cooperation. He served as Commissioner of the Independent Commission Against Corruption in 1999-2002 and the Permanent Secretary for the Treasury from 2002 to 2007.

As laid out in Art. 14 of the I.O.I. by-laws the Secretary General who is nominated by the members of the Austrian Ombudsman Board also forms part of the Executive Committee. I.O.I. Secretary General Peter Kostelka was appointed in June 2009 and continues to serve on the Executive Committee.

The I.O.I. Board thanked the outgoing Acting President Mats Melin (Sweden) and Treasurer Gord Button (Canada/Alberta) for their valuable services to the I.O.I. Their leadership in the first year after the transition of the I.O.I. General Secretariat to Vienna has significantly contributed to a successful membership year.

BERMUDA BOARD DECISIONS

In addition to the above mentioned elections the Board of Directors took far reaching decisions that will form the basis of the I.O.I.'s work programme for the next twelve months.

I.O.I. Annual Report

An I.O.I. Annual Report highlighting the main developments in the past membership year and outlining the work program until the next Board meeting will be sent to all I.O.I. members. The report will be published in all three official languages.

I.O.I. Funding for regional projects

The Board asked the General Secretariat to develop guidelines as to which regional projects might in the future profit from I.O.I. funding. This new policy for regional I.O.I. projects and external regional funding requests is proposed to come into effect after a debate and decision at the 2011 Board meeting.

The Board authorized the Executive Committee, within the limits of the by-laws, to review and short-list applications for I.O.I. project funding. All regions are therefore asked to submit concrete project proposals and cost calculations before 15 January 2011. The General Secretariat will inform all regions on the necessary documentation of the project proposals. From now until the end of the current fiscal year Ex-Com will decide which applications for subsidy should benefit from financial support. In total these will not exceed the amount of 50.000 EUR. Preference will be given to training activities. This decision also applies to already tabled requests for subsidies.

Comparative Study: APOR Region

The Board approved the first I.O.I. comparative research project that draws on the experience of a previous research project on the European region by Prof. Kucsko-Stadlmayer and is planned to be implemented for the APOR region by the Ludwig Boltzmann Institute of Human Rights (BIM).

The project should run from November 2010 to October 2011 with the aim of presenting the preliminary results of the study at the 2011 Board meeting.

Future Training Programmes

Following the success of the first I.O.I. / SYT training in Vienna the Board approved that another worldwide I.O.I. edition of the SYT training should be held in Vienna in 2011. Dates should be communicated before the end of the year 2010. SYT 2011 will also offer several scholarships for member institutions with limited resources and the course will be open to non I.O.I. members depending upon availability.

The Board instructed the General Secretariat to conduct a survey among I.O.I. members focusing on their training needs. In cooperation with the Regional Vice-Presidents the General Secretariat will also review and evaluate external training programmes that might receive I.O.I. funding. The result of this survey will be presented in the framework of an I.O.I. business plan at the Board meeting in 2011. The Regional Vice-Presidents were asked by the Board to compile a list of regional training programmes that might be opened to I.O.I. member institutions from other regions or for non I.O.I. members.

The Training Committee will be chaired in the future by Ms. Arlene Brock (Caribbean & Latin America). Mr. Chronox Manek (APOR), Mr. Arne Fliflet (Europe), Ms. Diane Welborn (North America) and Ms. Amina Ouédraogo (Africa) will serve on the Committee.

This recognises their exceptional contribution in respect of the purposes of the I.O.I. as well as their outstanding services to the I.O.I. All Honorary Life Members of I.O.I. Canada will receive a communication confirming their membership class within the new I.O.I.

I.O.I. World Conference 2012

Following an open ended invitation to host the I.O.I.
